Read the passage below and then complete the tasks:

Last December was my birthday. I was looking forward to going to work to see what my friends had planned for me. But, as I walked into the staffroom it was obvious that they had completely forgotten all about it. I was really disappointed as I love surprises, especially on my birthday. When I arrived home after work, my wife and children were out visiting my mother in law. Feeling rather lonely, I wanted to do something, so I decided to phone my parents, my brother Tim and best friend Gary, but none of them answered my call, which I thought was really strange. By early evening no one came over to my house or returned my calls. I felt really upset, so I decided to watch TV until my wife and children got home. As I was upset and getting really worried about everyone, I forgot to shower or change the clothes I had been wearing since early this morning. Feeling a bit hungry, I went into the kitchen and made a cheese sandwich and a cup of tea. I had been watching TV for nearly half an hour, when the doorbell rang. You can imagine the surprise I got when I opened the door. My friends, all my family and even my boss had all come to give me a surprise birthday party. I was very embarrassed because I felt I wasn't dressed properly for the occasion, but nevertheless, I had a fantastic evening with them all. It was a surprise, but in a different way.
