I. Read the passage below and then complete the tasks:

I woke up feeling rather poorly this morning, so I called my clinic to see if I could make an appointment to see my GP. The receptionist asked what my problem was and then explained to me that due to the coronavirus, appointments were only available for serious cases. She was very apologetic and said that the only way possible to see my GP was to have an appointment online. As I had no choice, I agreed to have one at ten o'clock. I was feeling rather nervous because it was the first time I was going to have an online appointment. My GP called at exactly ten o'clock and asked me what my problem was. I told her I had a very bad sore throat, lost my voice, had a stuffy nose and a high temperature. I mentioned I was feeling rundown and had lost my appetite. As this wasn't the first time I had these symptoms, she knew exactly how to help me. She prescribed some medicines which should help me get better: antibiotics for a tonsil infection, nasal drops and Panadol to bring down my temperature. She also said I needed to rest, so she suggested to take sick leave for a week. She also sent my prescription straight to the chemist. Once the call was over, I went immediately to the chemist to get my medicine and then called my boss to inform her that I would be on sick leave for a week.
